DEDICATION

It is with deep sincerity that we, the student body, dedicate this edition of the Rogahi to one whose devotion to duty and whose ability to challenge has inspired each of us onward toward higher goals and greater understanding.

We have much admiration for one who has imparted to us a portion of the knowledge which she possesses.

To one who has guided and assisted us with a spirit of patience we cannot express our true feelings with mere words.

We can only say, thank you, as we dedicate our Nineteen Sixty-Two Yearbook, the Rogahi, to Miss Faye Kidd.

GREETINGS TO THE YEARBOOK STAFF:

To you, the members of the Rogahi staff, and to your sponsor, Mr. Blaine Worrell, may I offer my commendations for a job well done.

Today, when the air resounds with shrill cries from the defeatist, when half the world is living in fear and are saying: "What is the use . . . to work . . . to save . . . to go on living . . . with the end of the world just around the corner?" In this present crisis, with no bright vision to guide us, the door is wide open to darkness and despair. May I suggest to you that the way to close it is to stick to the job, no matter how small, to try to do it well and to complete it.

I hope each of you will find that the joy of achievement is victory over oneself. If you know this then you can never be defeated.

Sincerely,

Garland L. Updyke
